Expressing his enthusiasm for the project, Kabir Khan said, "Stories have the power to connect people across borders, and My Melbourne does just that. My film Setara , based on Setara's own life and journey , that she played on screen as well, delves into themes of resilience and identity, which are deeply personal yet universally relevant. Working on this project has been an enriching experience, and I can't wait for Indian audiences to witness these stories on the big screen."
